

We are registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services fees differ and it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at <http://investor.gov/crs>, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Our firm offers investment advisory services, which are fully described in our Form ADV Part 2A (“Disclosure Brochure”). Our services include financial planning and investment management services on a stand-alone basis or on a combined basis as part of a comprehensive wealth management offering. As part of our standard services, we monitor investments that we manage monitor accounts on a daily basis and have procedures in place to alert irregular activity or performance irregularities. Financial planning and investment consulting recommendations are not actively monitored. There are no material limitations to our monitoring. We accept discretionary authority to implement the recommended transactions in client accounts. The level of discretion is determined in our agreement and there are no material limitations on the authority. We do not offer proprietary products. We offer advice on mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”), individual debt and equity securities, and to a lesser extent, various independent investment managers, in accordance with the investment objectives of its individual clients. We may also recommend to clients who are accredited investors privately placed securities, which include debt, equity and/or interests in pooled investment vehicles (e.g., hedge funds). Our services are not subject to a minimum fee or account size.

Additional information about our services can be found in Items 4, 5 and 7 of our Disclosure Brochure available to all clients or by going here: <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/120358>

Let’s discuss...

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

We offer our services on a fee basis. We charge a fixed or hourly fee for financial planning and investment consulting and a fee based upon asset under management for investment management and wealth management services. For ongoing services, the annual fee is prorated and charged quarterly.

In addition to the advisory fees paid to us, you also incur certain charges imposed by other third parties, such as broker-dealers, custodians, etc. For advisory clients additional charges may include custodial fees, fees charged by the independent managers, charges imposed directly by a mutual fund or ETF in a client’s account. Clients who use brokerage services may be charged deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

The more assets there are in your advisory accounts, the more you will pay in fees, so the firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account or manage them in a way where we charge higher fees. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Additional information about our fees can be found in Item 5 of our Disclosure Brochure available to all clients or by going here: <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/120358>

Let’s discuss... Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

- Third-Party Payments: We do not receive compensation from third parties when we recommend investments. When it is in your best interest, our supervised persons or affiliates can, in their individual capacities, recommend insurance services, for which they receive payment from third parties. This results in an incentive for our supervised persons or affiliates to recommend those services.

Let's discuss... How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

Additional information about our conflicts of interest can be found throughout our Disclosure Brochure available to all clients or by going here: <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/120358>

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated based on the following factors and conflicts of interest:

- The amount of client assets they service. This results in an incentive to favor clients with more assets being serviced.
- The time and complexity required to meet the client's needs. This results in an incentive to spend more time on issues than are required.
- The product sold and sales commissions. While not earned as financial professionals of our firm, compensation from insurance services results in an incentive to sell those services.

Additional information about our financial professionals can be found on their respective Form ADV Part 2 Brochure Supplements that you will be provided.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No, neither we nor our financial professionals have a legal or disciplinary history. You can visit <http://investor.gov/crs> for a free and simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals.

Let's discuss... As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

You can find additional information about our services on our website at <http://www.yourpremierwealth.com> and in our Disclosure Brochure. To request a copy of this Relationship Summary and any of our other disclosure documents referred to in this document, please email us at jd@yourpremierwealth.com.

Let's discuss... Who is my primary contact person? Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker-dealer? Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?
